Studies in Christian Doctrine Pertaining to the Spiritual Life

By REV. WILBUR F. TILLET, D.D.

Dean of the Theological Faculty and Professor of Systematic Theology in Vanderbilt University

This volume attempts to combine the best elements of both Biblical and Systematic Theology. At the beginning of each chapter there is a page of striking thoughts and short sayings from eminent sources. At the end of each chapter the author has given a large number of references to the treatment of the subject by other religious writers and theologians. Each chapter begins with a page of Scripture quotations, and closes with a hymn carefully selected for its didactic and devotional value. The studies are especially designed for young ministers, but are such as Sunday school teachers and thoughtful laymen will read with interest and profit. Clearness and simplicity mark every page of the book.

The more delicate and difficult doctrines of Wesleyan Theology, such as Sanctification, Sin in the Regenerate, Christian Perfection, etc., are treated in a manner that will commend itself to all who are seeking for light on these subjects.

The Table of Contents covers twelve pages, and is a complete analysis of the volume.

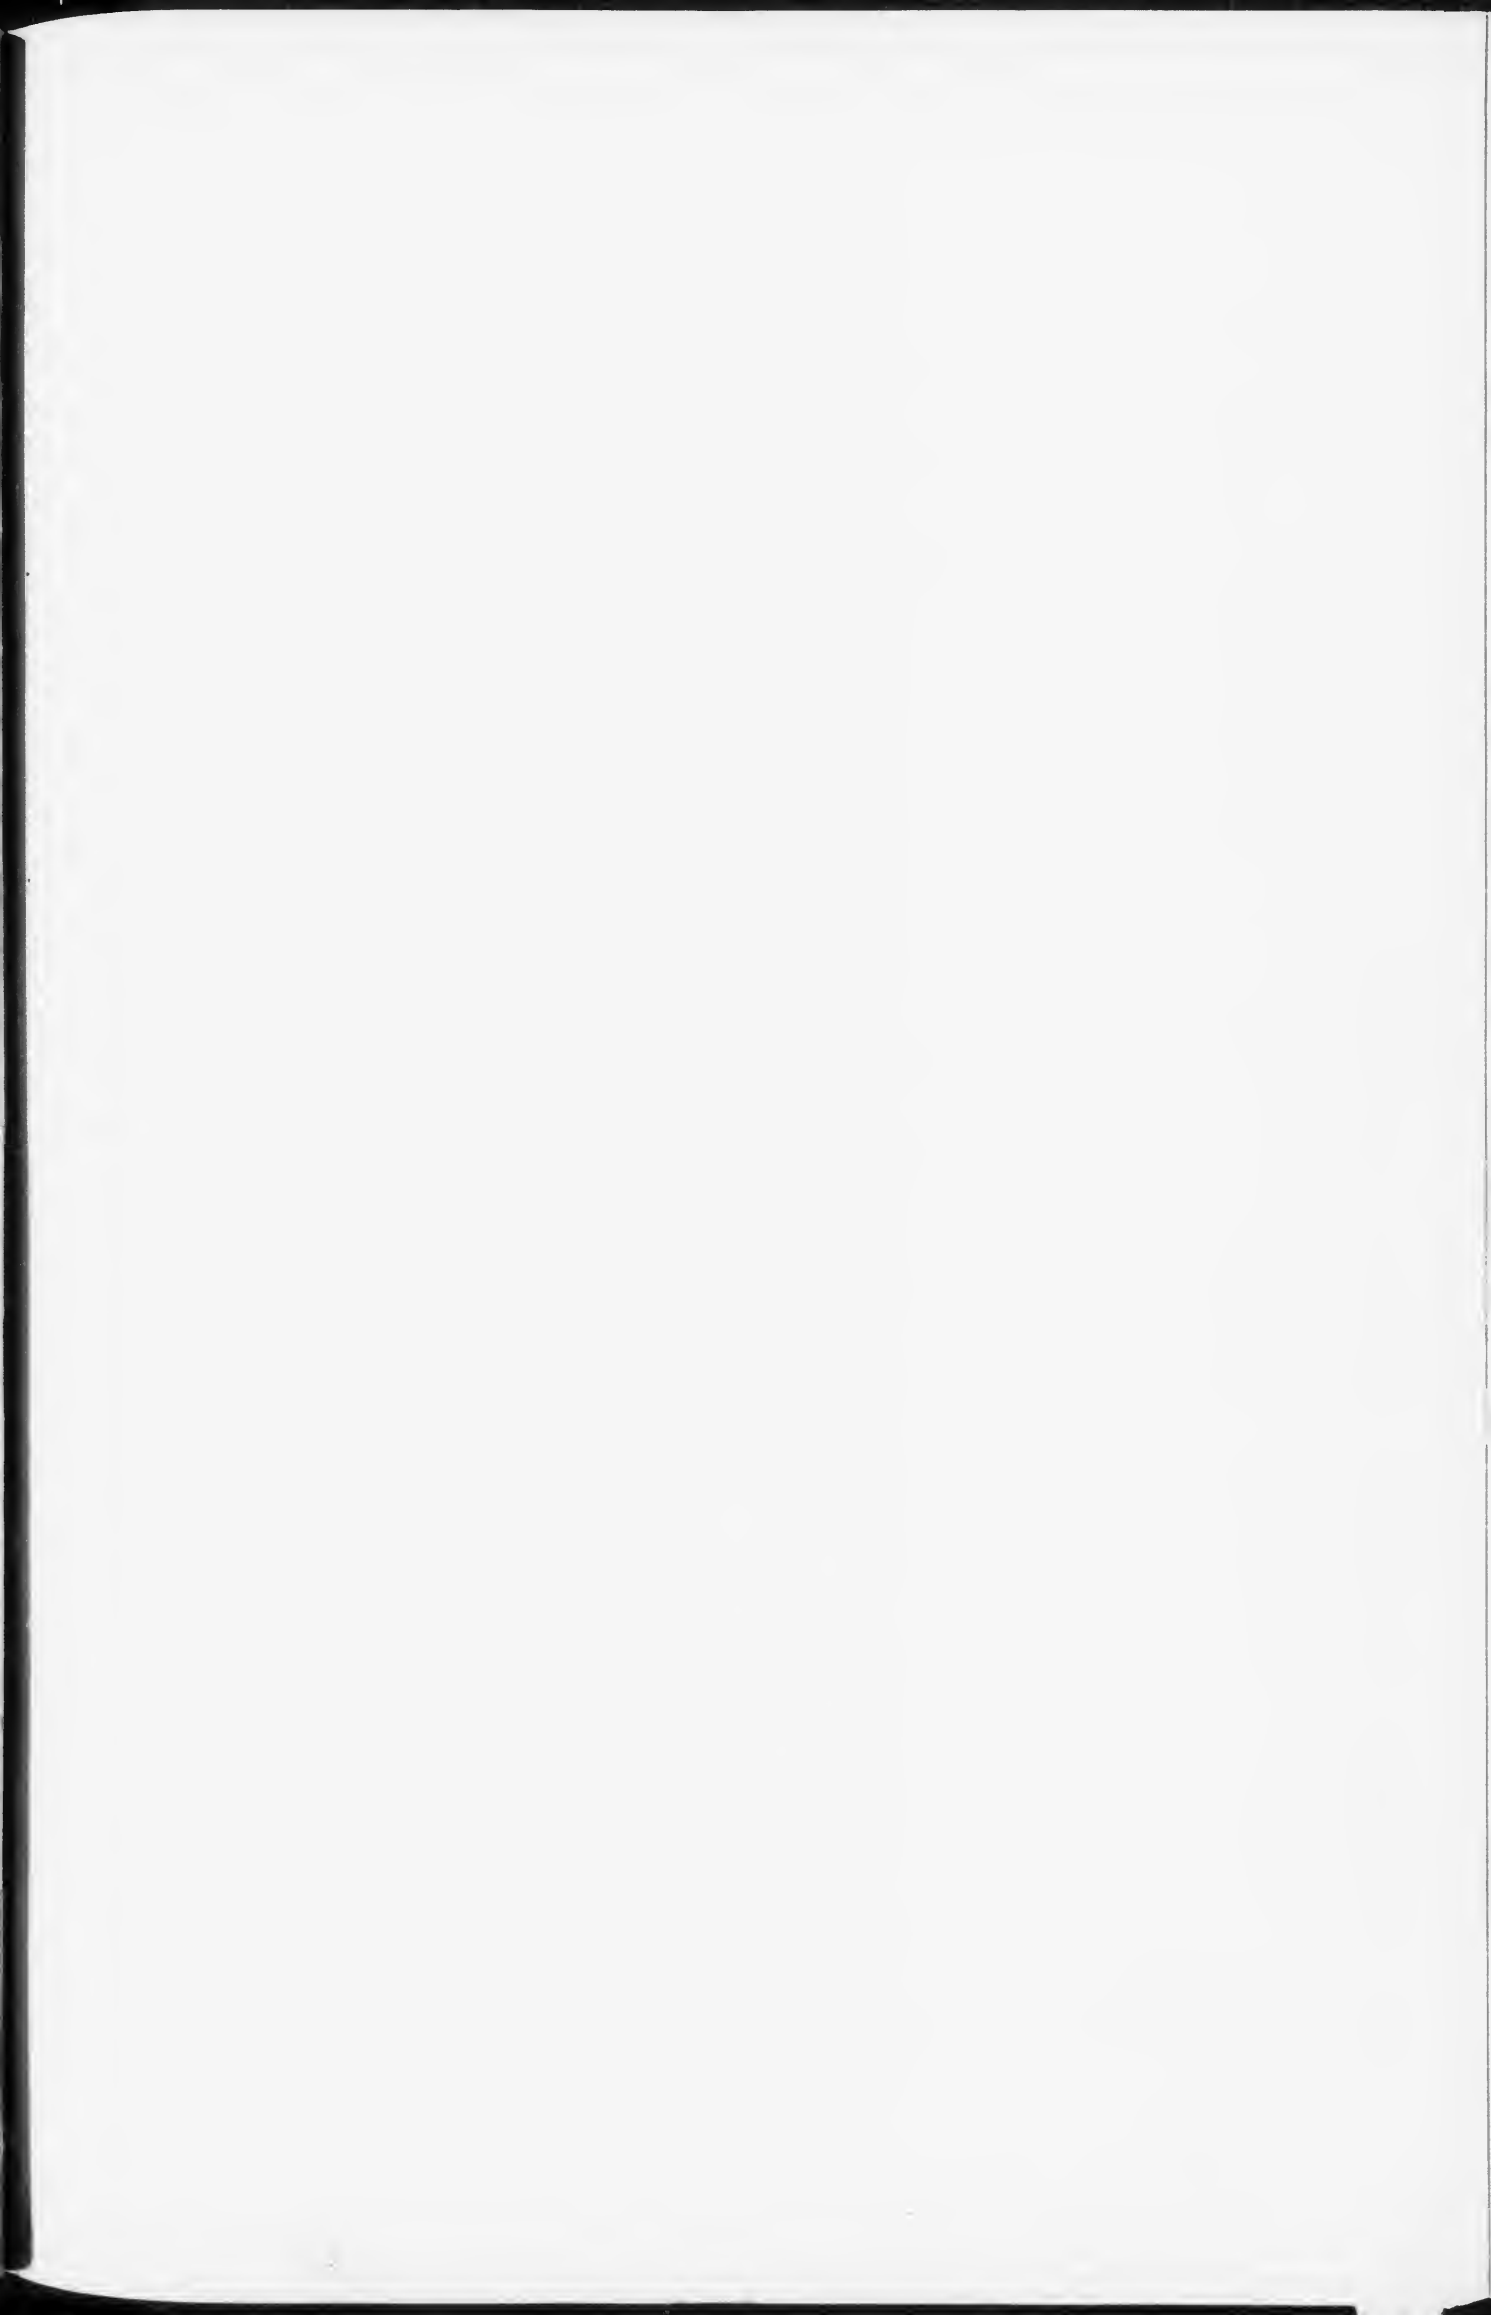

This volume contains the ripest and latest thoughts of one who has been a teacher of theology for twenty years.

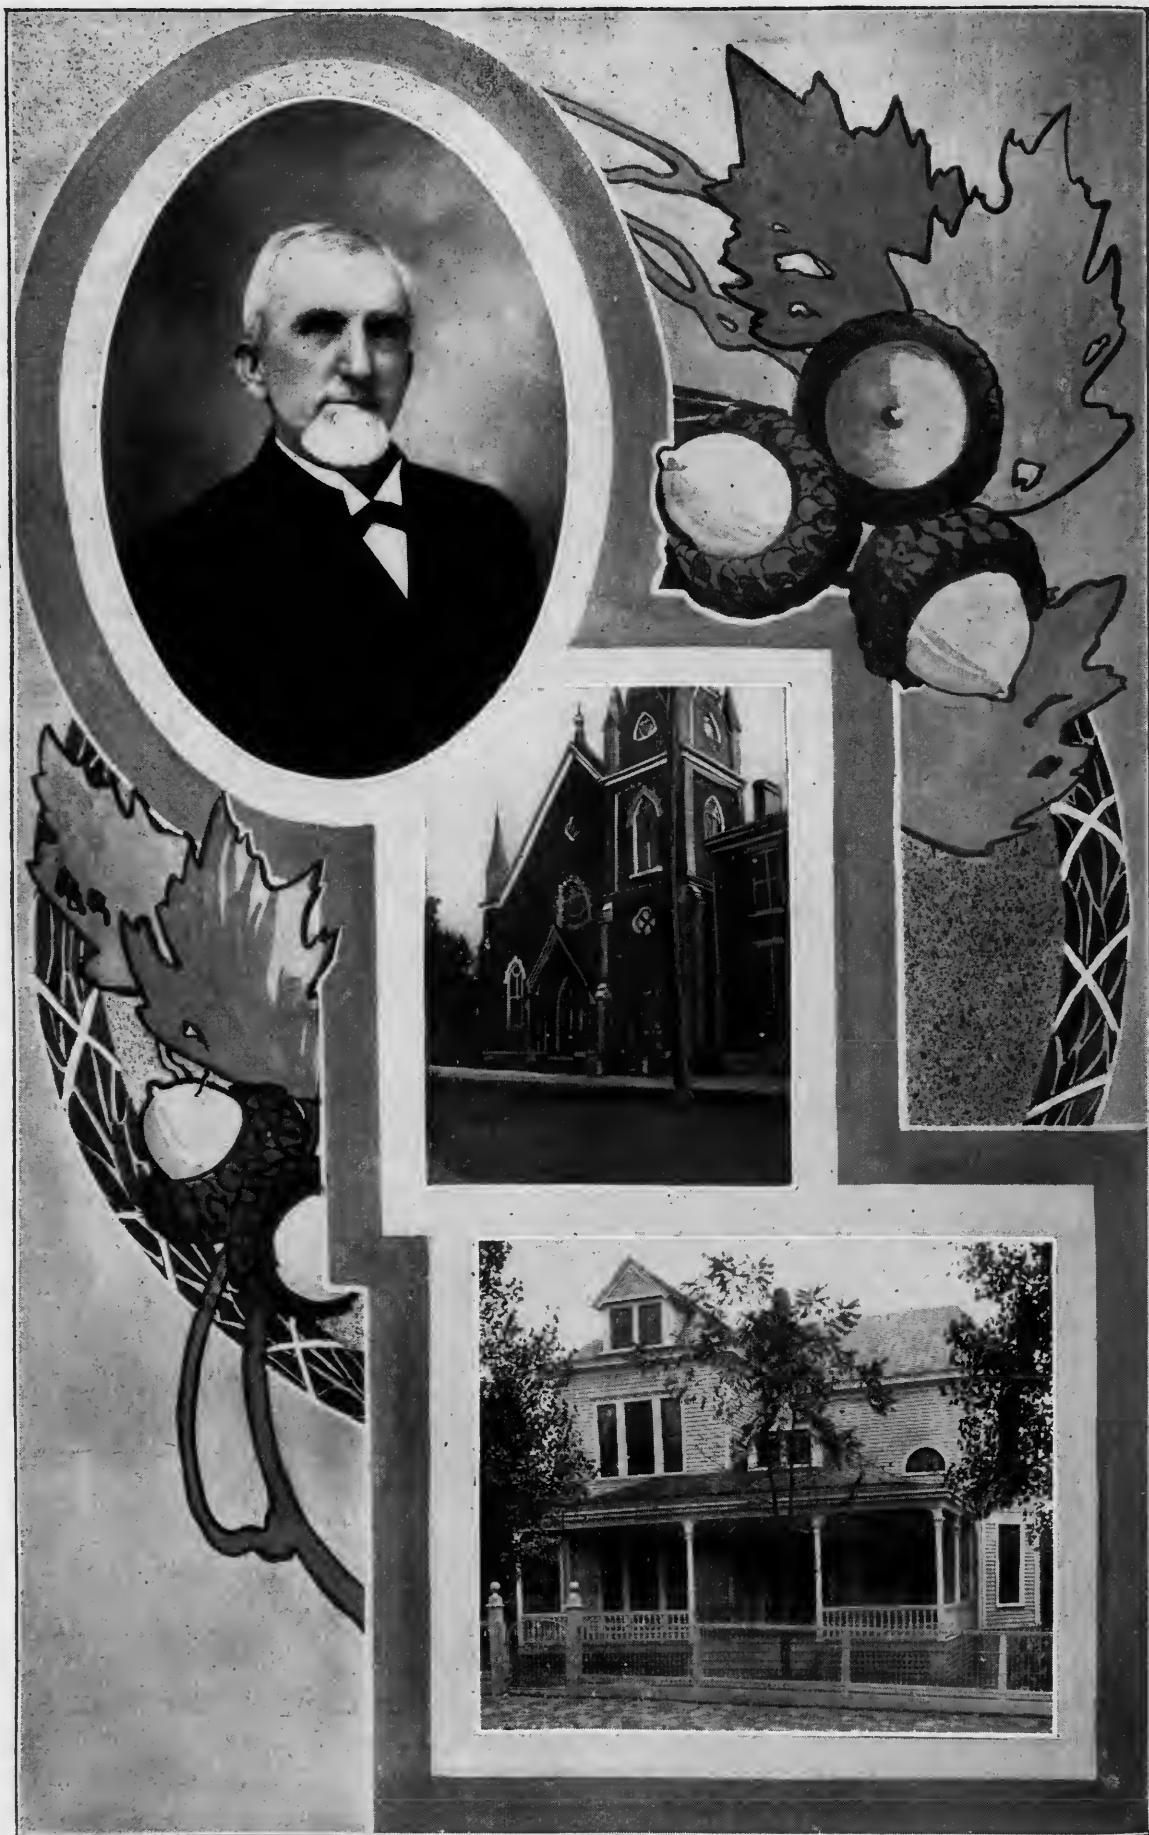

Large duodecimo; pp. 556. Best paper and binding; wide margin; long primer type; gilt top. Price, $1.50.

2. The presiding officer shall cause the session to be opened promptly with divine service, and after the reading and approval of the journal the Chair shall call the disciplinary questions according to his discretion, subject to the order of the day.
3. Special committees ordered by the Conference shall be appointed by the Chair, unless otherwise provided for.
4. When the report of a committee is under discussion, a representative of the committee shall have the right to close the discussion, and the call of the previous question shall be subject to that right.
5. The presiding officer shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Conference. When such appeal is taken, the person making the appeal shall be allowed to state the ground of his appeal, and the Chair the ground of his decision. 6. Every resolution shall be in writing, signed by at least two members, and every substitute and amendment or report of a committee shall be in writing.

12. Whenever a member shall move the "previous question," the Chair shall demand, "Shall the question now be put?" and the vote on such motion shall be taken without debate. If a majority of the members voting sustain the call, the Chair shall put the question then pending without debate, except as provided in Rule 4. See No. 8 (1) and (2).
13. A motion to reconsider may be made on the day of the vote or the next day after (immediately after the reading of the journal) by any member who voted with the majority.

To the Bishop and Members of the Tennessee Conference.

Dear Brethren: After my Christian salutation, I wish to inform you that my physical condition is anything but encouraging. My power of locomotion has declined until a walk of two or three blocks exhausts me. In the early part of the year I preached about three times. My voice has become so treacherous at times that I have been compelled to decline invitations to speak. I hardly dare indulge the hope to rally the forces of Christ around his standard as of yore. It has cost me a fearful struggle to say in my heart, "Thy will be done." But now I can say, in the language of another:

"Amid my list of blessings infinite Stands this the foremost, that my heart has bled."

I am resting on the Rock of Ages, to which I climbed when a boy; there I am fixed. I have never felt that Rock shake under me, though I have sometimes shaken with fear while on the Rock. Amongst the many facts which inspire my soul are these: that God has love, and I have faith. Have I not a right to anticipate a final victory, and say, in the language of another:

"I shall see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar?"

In hope of greeting you, one and all, in the great beyond, I am your fellow-servant in Christ Jesus,

JOHN MATHEWS.

Leave of absence was granted to J. G. Hinson.

Hour of Meeting.—On motion, the Conference reconsidered the vote by which 9 A.M. and 12:30 P.M. were fixed as the hours of meeting and adjournment, and decided to meet at 8:30 A.M. and adjourn at 12 M.

Introduced.—Drs. J. D. Hammond, Secretary of Education, T. S. Wade, of the Western Virginia Conference, and John W. Bell, of the North Mississippi Conference, were introduced.

After the usual notices, the Conference adjourned with the benediction by Bishop Duncan.

SECOND DAY.

SUPPLEMENT—REPORTS ADOPTED.

I. JOINT BOARD OF FINANCE.

REPORT No. 1.

We submit herewith the annual report of the Board of Trust for Superannuated Preachers and Widows and Orphans of your Conference. A check for $849.90 has been received by us as the annual income from the funds in the hands of said Board, and which is carried by us to the fund for distribution at the present session of this Conference. The report has been examined, and is approved by us, and is brought before the Conference for any further action that may be desired.

REPORT No. 2.

We submit herewith the action of the Quarterly Conference of the Lebanon Circuit, Lebanon District, in regard to the parsonage property purchased from the proceeds of a lease of the John Seay property belonging to this Conference for the benefit of said circuit, with our recommendation that the request of said Quarterly Conference be granted, and that the trustees of the Seay property be requested to take the proper steps to put the title of the said parsonage property, purchased as above indicated, in trustees to be appointed by said Quarterly Conference.

To the Joint Board of Finance of the Tennessee Annual Conference, in Session at Gallatin, Tenn.

We respectfully show that some years ago there was given to the Tennessee Annual Conference by the will of the Rev. John Seay, deceased, certain property situated in the bounds of and for the benefit of the Lebanon Circuit of said Conference. This property was not suitable in many respects for occupation by the preachers in charge, so that about six years ago, by the consent of the trustees appointed by the Annual Conference for said property, the same was leased out for the term of twenty years, and with the proceeds of this lease a parsonage was purchased at Leeville, Tenn., for said circuit, and the title to said property was taken in the names of the trustees who had been appointed by the Annual Conference to look after the Seay bequest.

The Quarterly Conference of said Lebanon Circuit now in session ask that the title to the new parsonage building and lot be now transferred to trustees to be appointed by said Quarterly Conference, and to be under their management and control. This action will in no way interfere with the control of the Seay property given to said Annual Conference for the benefit of said circuit.

On motion of T. H. Hinson, the above was unanimously adopted.

W. B. LOWRY, P. E.;
F. COCHRANE, Secretary.

September 17, 1904.

We agree to this action asked by the Quarterly Conference of the Lebanon Circuit.

F. COCHRANE,
R. Q. WORD,
P. G. BASS,
T. H. JOHNSON,
J. W. POWELL.

II. CHURCH PROPERTY.

Your Committee on Church Property would recommend that the rule adopted at the Annual Conference in Shelbyville in 1883, and which has been the law since, be so amended as to read: "The District Conference, in addition to its clerical delegates provided for in the law of the Church, shall be composed of the recording steward, the trustees of district parsonage property, and one delegate for every one hundred members; provided that each pastoral charge shall be entitled to two delegates, the delegates to be elected by Quarterly Conference at its first or second session of each Conference year." We would state that according to the reports of the pastors and presiding elders, as compiled by the statistical secretary of the Conference, there has been an increase in the number of churches and an increase in the number of parsonages, and an increase in the aggregate value of the same. We recommend that our Church property be insured at a reasonable valuation wherever practicable.

IV. THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

We are gratified to report an advance in all Sunday school interests. The larger amount of money contributed for the cause and the better work done in our schools evidence a growing interest in this department of the Church.

The increased amount contributed on Children's Day, and the enlarged contributions for missions by the Sunday schools, indicate that our people are beginning to realize that the Sunday school is a potent factor in advancing the cause of Christian education and in spreading gospel holiness through the land. During the year we have placed libraries in a number of Sunday schools, and have aided and, in most instances, furnished the entire literature for ninety-four schools. We have not refused a single proper application, and we stand ready to furnish libraries and periodical literature to all our needy Sunday schools making the proper application for same.

The Board will furnish Children's Day programmes to all our schools applying for them. Address applications for aid to Mr. Len K. Hart, Secretary, Nashville, Tenn. Application blanks for aid may be procured from him, or from the Publishing House. All applications for aid should be made upon these blanks. That there may be a uniform system in reporting the number of Sunday school scholars, all who have been enrolled during the year should be enumerated.

The Board is planning to hold an Institute during the year in every presiding elder's district, conducted by Dr. H. M. Hamill, and assisted by Mrs. Hamill. We trust that we shall have the coöperation of our presiding elders, pastors, and superintendents.

We commend the Teachers' Study Circle to our pastors and superintendents.

It is the duty of all our schools to take a collection every Sunday for the purpose of buying their literature, except that the collection of one Sunday in each month be paid to the preacher in charge as missionary money, which may be credited on his missionary assessment. The Sunday school scholars should be trained to give, so that a generation may be reared which shall consider it a reproach not to contribute to the support of the institutions of the Church. We recommend the distribution in the Sunday school of missionary literature.

Our schools should use our own literature, and each teacher should be furnished with the Sunday School Magazine, and we should endeavor to place the Visitor in every family represented in the school.

The superintendents should consider the importance of Decision Day, in which the members of the school may be given an opportunity to publicly express their determination to lead a Christian life. Let it not be forgotten that the great object of the Sunday school is to bring the children to Christ and to prepare them to become intelligent and useful members of the Church.

The Executive Committee is directed to appoint one delegate and alternate from each presiding elder's district to their District Conferences.

With gratitude to our Heavenly Father for past successes and invoking his aid and asking the cheerful coöperation of our preachers, we enter upon the work of the new year determining with larger experience to accomplish more in the future than in the past.

V. BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Board of Education has heard with pleasure the report of Dr. J. D. Hammond, Secretary of Education, concerning the general work of his Board during the past year. It calls attention to the remarkable and gratifying increase in contributions to education throughout our Church during the past four years, the amount contributed to this cause the past year being nearly twice as much as it was four years ago. That the General Board of Education is doing much to improve our educational system and also to develop an educational conscience among our people is evident to all who are familiar with its work. We welcome into our homes and into our Churches all the helpful and healthful literature which the General Board of Education is circulating throughout the Church, thus stirring up our preachers and people to take a more active interest in the cause of education. The efforts of the General Board of Education to aid Paine Institute in its plans for building up a theological department for the special training of young ministers for the colored people are worthy of our encouragement and support.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY AND OTHER SCHOOLS.

The reports for the past year from Vanderbilt University give evidence of continued prosperity. Nearly eight hundred students were enrolled in the seven different departments of the University, eighty-three of these being young ministers. Four of these ministerial students were from the bounds of this Conference. With the large number of excellent training schools in the bounds of this Conference preparing young men for Vanderbilt University, and with ample helping funds available both in the Conference and at the University for aiding all worthy candidates for the ministry, we feel that practically all of our young ministers should avail themselves of the superior educational advantages offered by these institutions, before entering the active work of the ministry. A large number of schools located within the territory of this Conference, although not owned by the Church, are under the control of members of our Church, and are in every way worthy of our indorsement and patronage. We desire to express our continued appreciation of the favors which these schools are extending to our young men studying for the ministry, and to our preachers in the education of their children. This Conference, as is well known, owns a small amount of stock in the Clarksville Female Academy. This institution is now in charge of Rev. J. W. Repass, a member of this Conference, who has associated with himself a faculty of cultured Christian teachers fully capable of doing thorough work in the education of all young ladies who are committed to their care and training. We commend this school to the consideration of parents who have daughters to be educated. We deplore the loss by fire within the last few days of Martin College, at Pulaski, presided over by Rev. B. F. Haynes, of this Conference. We have learned indirectly that it is the purpose of the Trustees to rebuild at an early day.

MONTEREY SCHOOL.

We have carefully examined into the situation at Monterey, Tenn., with reference to the best disposition to make of our school property located there. The Executive Committee of the Board of Education, acting under instructions from the Board, visited Monterey the past year, and consulted with the presiding elder, the pastor in charge, and a number of the leading citizens of the place, including all but one of those who originally donated the property, and there was practical unanimity among us all that the wisest and best course for our Church to pursue under existing circumstances is to turn the property over to the local authorities. The property is worth now several times as much as it was when it was given to the Church to be used for school purposes. That it is a most suitable location for a local public school is evident to all who have examined the situation. There is, however, more land than is needed for the purposes of a merely local public school. We feel that it is but proper and right that the Board of Education of our Conference should be reimbursed for the money which it has expended upon the school building (about $400), at least to the extent of what may be considered the present value of those improvements, or about $250. We recommend, therefore, that the Trustees of this Conference (or other proper parties representing the Church) be here and now authorized to execute such papers as may be necessary to a legal transfer of this property to the company which originally donated it to the Church whenever they shall pay into the hands of said Trustees (or other proper parties) the sum of $250, and shall give satisfactory assurance that they will set apart for perpetual use as a public school in the town of Monterey not less than two acres of ground, including that on which the building now stands. The original donors will still, we are glad to know, have left for themselves a number of lots worth considerably more than the entire donation was valued at when it was given to the Church, some years ago.

THE CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL.

The report of Rev. J. L. Cuninggim, director of the Correspondence School, gives evidence of the great success of this department of the educational work of our Church. The school has now, at the end of its second year, enrolled as many as 453 young ministers in its classes. Four hundred and nine of these have carried on undergraduate courses of study and forty-four have been enrolled in the post-graduate class. Eighteen members of this Conference are enrolled among these students of the Correspondence School. Most gratifying expressions of appreciation of the work of this school are heard on every hand, not only from the large number of young ministers who have been enrolled as students, but from the Examining Committees throughout the Church, into whose hands all the examination papers and grades are committed for their scrutiny and approval before the students are allowed to pass. We desire not only to express our appreciation of the work of this school, but to urge all our young ministers in the Conference to take advantage of the assistance and guidance which it offers in the prosecution of their studies.

THE SUMMER INSTITUTE.

The Summer Institute of biblical and theological study is now correlated with the Correspondence School. The last session of the Institute had an attendance of something over a hundred ministers. Most of these were from the Tennessee Conference, though six or eight other Conferences also had representatives present. The Institute has had no income whatever up to the present except what has been secured by the private subscriptions of a few interested friends. We have so far had only such speakers and lecturers to appear on our programme as could be secured without cost. The Board of Directors have felt that it was wise to adopt the plan of some of the other Institutes of the Church that have been especially successful, and invite two or three of the most distinguished scholars and divines of the country to spend three or four days each with us delivering a series of addresses and discourses prepared with special reference to our needs. To do this will subject the Institute to some expense, to meet which it has been decided by the Board of Directors to make a small charge for membership in the Institute hereafter. This has been fixed at three dollars. All speakers and lecturers who live in the city of Nashville will hereafter, as heretofore, most gladly give their services free of charge. It is confidently expected that under this new arrangement the Board of Directors will be able to provide the most attractive programme that has ever been arranged for the entertainment, instruction, edification, and inspiration of all who attend.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION LECTURES.

We would also call attention to a third department which has recently been added to the Correspondence School—the University Extension Course of Lectures. This department offers some twelve or fifteen different courses, some of which are suitable for meetings arranged by pastors with their people, others for District Conferences, others for gatherings of ministers at institutes and elsewhere. These can be secured at small cost to those interested. We would ask our pastors to examine into this new feature of the work of the Correspondence School, and see if they may not utilize it to advantage in their pastoral charges.

CONFERENCE LECTURES.

The Board of Education feels that some work of this kind can be done to advantage at the sessions of our Annual Conference, and would recommend that they be authorized to invite some distinguished divine and scholar to deliver a series of from three to five discourses or addresses on some subject of great importance and interest to all who are in attendance upon the Conference, but of especial value to our ministers. The main purpose of these addresses shall be to quicken the spiritual life of our preachers and people while presenting and developing some great Christian truth or setting forth the need of some important form of Christian activity. We ask that three o'clock in the afternoon of each day or some other suitable hour be set apart for these addresses.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE AT NASHVILLE.

The Board of Education feels that there is great need in this Conference and throughout our Church generally for a college for young ladies located in the city of Nashville. The work which Vanderbilt University stands ready to do and is doing for more advanced students is not meeting the widespread need of which we speak. The time seems ripe for encouraging a movement of this kind. A well-conducted female college in the city of Nashville owned and controlled either by the Church or by members of our Church would not only be a source of great strength to Methodism in the city, and meet the needs of Methodist parents residing there, but would be welcomed by the entire Church, and especially by all Methodist parents living in the bounds of the Tennessee Conference. We recommend this movement to the friends of Christian education within our bounds, and express the hope that the way may be opened at an early day for the establishment of such an institution.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR CHRISTIAN WORKERS.

We desire to give our indorsement to the Training School for Christian Workers that has been projected by the Board of Missions, and which is to be held in Nashville the coming winter.

HELPING FUNDS.

The Board of Education is using the money at its command to aid our preachers in the education of their daughters and sons, and all worthy students preparing for the ministry. Also where our young preachers are receiving a salary too small and inadequate to meet their needs the Board stands ready to pay the small fees connected with the prosecution of their work in the Correspondence School and the Summer Institute.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY FUND.

The Twentieth Century Fund of this Conference, amounting to something over $6,000, has been invested during the past year at six per cent interest. This investment is protected by first mortgage on Nashville real estate. One thousand dollars of this amount is the undirected donation of Dr. D. C. Kelley. The receipts from subscriptions for the past year amount to $727.50, all but $30 of which was specially directed to the Biblical Department of Vanderbilt University.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

We recommend that the election of Rev. J. W. Repass to the presidency of Clarksville Female Academy by the Board of Trustees be approved by this Conference, and that he be appointed thereto by the presiding bishop. Also that Rev. B. F. Haynes be appointed to the presidency of Martin College, and that M. C. Rowland be appointed as a student in the Branham and Hughes School, at Spring Hill.

VI. BOARD OF MISSIONS.

REPORT No. 1.

The Board of Missions recommend the appointment of Dr. D. C. Kelley as Conference Missionary Secretary.

REPORT No. 2.

Your Board of Missions notes with pleasure that this has been a year of prosperity along many lines of missionary activity. Six out of ten presiding elders' districts have paid their assessments in full, and yet our receipts show a falling off as compared with last year, due to a decrease in assessments, and possibly to a redistribution of some on our various districts. We are glad to believe that our receipts are not the result of a strenuous commercialism, but of a conscientious performance of Christian duty.

There is an increase of assessments for foreign missions of ten per cent over last year, due to a like assessment upon the entire Church made by the Board of Missions by order of the General Conference.

We note with pleasure and pride the great work being done by our good women in their Foreign and Home Mission Societies, and by our juvenile workers. We hereby pledge them our hearty indorsement and coöperation; we also express our gratitude for the work done by our Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues, but urge them to greater and better organized effort. In this connection let us urge upon all our pastors and official brethren to press upon the consciences of our people everywhere the importance of rallying to this great fundamental and constructive principle of the kingdom of God.

Your Board does most heartily indorse the Missionary Training School inaugurated by our General Board of Missions, and recommend the appointment of Rev. J E. McCulloch as instructor in this school. To this institution our Conference Board has pledged ten scholarships for the benefit of our Conference, to be provided for by special donations, placing the matter in the hands of the Executive Committee.

The Board has instructed its Executive Committee to render such assistance to the presiding elders in holding their institutes as may be needful, and to assist our missionaries in procuring aid in their revival work.

In view of the blessings of God upon our work and people in all the past, and the promise of our Christ to be with us to the end, and in view of our financial ability; therefore be it

Resolved, That we here and now set our hearts and heads to meet our obligations in full, and that we will strive more diligently to create a missionary conscience among all our people and to procure a more general circulation of our missionary literature in all our charges.

For assessments see page 63.

VII. EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

Your Epworth League Board is happy to report a quickening of interest in League work throughout the whole connection. The activity of the League is greater than ever before, it is being organized upon more practical and systematic lines of work, and the energy and enthusiasm of our young people are being conserved and given proper direction. The number of Leagues in the Tennessee Conference is 76, and the number of members 2,563. The League is coming to be recognized as an indispensable spiritual force in many places, and therefore as a necessity. We have not as many Chapters in our Conference as we should have. One reason for this is that our pastors have either organized on too large a scale or have been afraid to organize because they could not run a League in all its departments. Experience has taught us that our best Leagues have grown from small beginnings; we therefore commend the following plan to pastors for the organization of new Leagues. Wherever ten young people can be induced to join, get them to subscribe for the Era, and let them begin by meeting once a week for the study of the "Bible Culture Course," which appears in the Era each week. Beginning thus with one department, they can gradually take up the work of the others. In this connection we cannot too highly commend the work being done by our General Secretary and his assistant in our League paper. Let the Leagues labor to extend its circulation, and let them not forget to send the "Ten-Cent Assessment," as the office is largely dependent upon this for incidental expenses.

We call the attention of both pastors and Leaguers to the new department organized by the General Board last May—the "Department of Mission Study." Literature fully describing the work of this department may be had upon application to the general office or to the office of the Board of Missions. The next International Conference will be held at Denver in July, 1905, and the Seashore Assembly the first week in August. These gatherings are both educational and stimulative, and are well worth the attention of our young people. We had last June at Dickson the best Annual League Conference we have ever had, and with your consent and authority we shall plan larger things for the coming year. This Conference has always been held under your direction. We therefore recommend that you confirm the election of the following officers who shall have charge of the same, and that you give them your hearty coöperation and support: President, I. G. Campbell, of West End Church, Nashville; First Vice President, T. C. Ragsdale; Secretary, Paul B. Kern.

Respectfully submitted.

A. M. TRAWICK, Chairman;

B. L. LYLE, Secretary.

VIII. SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Your Committee on Sabbath Observance report that the papers submitted to them concerning the International Congress on Sabbath Rest show that this Congress was appointed to be held October 11, 12, 13, and 14, and that it is now too late to send delegates to this body, as the Conference has been requested.

All religious people should be concerned in regard to two things concerning the Sabbath question. First, the people of our Church and our country should be aroused to the necessity of preventing further desecration of the Sabbath. Our zeal with regard to this ought to be according to knowledge—remembering the words of our Lord: "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath." No further inroads should be allowed to be made upon the blessed privilege of Sabbath rest, which is a sacred right of working people.

In the second place, an earnest effort should be made to restore to those who have been deprived of it the right to rest and worship one day in seven. To this end we urge that our pastors preach upon this subject, and if possible get our people to read literature with regard to it.

J. W. CHERRY, Chairman;

IX. TEMPERANCE.

Your Committee on Temperance beg leave to report. We are gratified by the wholesome and beneficent results that have followed the enactment of stringent and timely temperance laws.

There are only seventeen towns in twelve counties in Tennessee where the Adams law is not in operation. We express the most earnest hope that this law may soon become effective in all the State, and we pray that the saloon curse may be driven from our cities and all the larger towns.

We consider it important that all possible influence be exerted to secure legislation which will make it a criminal offense to bring ardent spirits into communities that are protected by the Adams law, and to punish severely any one engaging in what is commonly called the "jug trade."

We express most earnestly our reprobation of the cigarette habit, which is growing to be an alarming evil among our young men, and even boys of tender years.

As Christian ministers and laymen we should be diligent by all firm and persistent effort to save our homes from this terrible habit.

We earnestly indorse the efforts that are now being made by the State Anti-

Saloon League in behalf of temperance, and we heartily reaffirm all the utterances of our previous Conferences in past years in reference to this great question.

We as a committee recommend to the Annual Conference the following memorial to Congress:

MEMORIAL TO CONGRESS.

Whereas for more than half a century the United States Government and the several tribal governments of the Indians occupying Indian Territory have seen the wisdom and necessity of prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within said Territory; and

Whereas in the agreements recently entered into between the said Five Civilized Tribes and the Federal Government looking toward the allotment of lands in severalty, one of the conditions upon which the said Indians consented to the extinguishment of their tribal relations, and to the admission of the white man to equal privileges of citizenship, was expressly stipulated as follows—namely, "The United States agrees to maintain strict laws in the territory of said nation against the introduction, sale, barter, or giving away of liquors and intoxicants of any kind or quality" (this being the language used in the treaty with the Creek Nation, the treaties with the other four tribes containing words to the same effect); and

Whereas such agreements, containing such stipulation, were not only duly signed by the Dawes Commission representing the United States, but were subsequently approved by Act of Congress; and

Whereas the statehood bill commonly known as the Hamilton Bill, now pending before the Senate of the United States after passing the House of Representatives, makes no provision for the fulfillment of this sacred pledge; therefore be it

Resolved by the Tennessee Annual Conference now assembled at Gallatin, Tenn., on this 24th day of October, 1904, That we do hereby respectfully invite the attention of the honorable Senate of the United States to the omission from the said Hamilton Bill of any provision fulfilling the said pledge of the Federal Government, and beg to represent that such omission, if not cured, would seem to constitute an act of bad faith on the part of our Government toward a helpless people; and we do hereby most earnestly memorialize the Congress of the United States to include, in whatever form of State government may be given to Indian Territory (among the several other requirements already stipulated in said Hamilton Bill and which may be approved by Congress as conditions precedent to statehood), the incorporation of an effective provision in the constitution of the new State against the sale of intoxicating liquors within the borders of what is now known as Indian Territory, according to the terms and meaning of the sacred pledges of the Federal Government to the said Five Civilized Tribes.

X. BIBLE CAUSE.

The American Bible Society, because of its great benevolent and missionary work in all lands, is entitled to and ought to have the hearty coöperation and support of all people.

We are glad to note the fact that our contributions to the Society this year are over a hundred per cent over last year. Last year the contribution was $357.70; this year the contribution is $667.76.

Because of its great need of funds to enable it to carry on its work in the future as in the past, we therefore recommend that every pastor, the coming year, bring the great and worthy cause of the American Bible Society to the attention of his people, and urge upon them a more liberal contribution this year than last year.

XII. BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

THE MIDLAND METHODIST.

Your committee is pleased to note that the Midland Methodist, our own Conference organ, has made a good gain in subscriptions during the year, and now has the largest circulation in its history. The paper is ably edited by Rev. J. A. Burrow, and deserves the cordial support of the ministers and laity throughout the bounds of the two Conferences which it represents. We recommend the appointment of Revs. J. T. Curry and J. R. Stewart and Mr. J. L. Parkes on the part of this Conference as member of the Joint Commission of the Midland Methodist.

THE PUBLISHING HOUSE.

The Book Agents' exhibit for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1904, was before us. This report shows an increase in business for the year amounting to $13,918.16. This is gratifying. We would suggest that our preachers put forth an extra effort to make the coming year the best financial year in the history of the House. The books which have been added to our catalogue this year are a credit to the House, and if circulated freely among our people would stimulate the intellectual and spiritual growth of the Church.

THE EPWORTH ERA.

Your committee is pleased to note the present success of the Epworth Era. Both from the representations of the editor and from the splendid specimen copies of the paper before us we infer that the Era is rapidly taking its rank with the best publications for the young people of our country. The efforts of the editors and publishers to produce a periodical in every way worthy of the Church should meet a hearty response amongst our preachers and people. If we fail to provide our young people with suitable literature, others outside of the Church influence will do it. We cannot afford to intrust this work to others. Dr. Du Bose is just now engaged in a strenuous effort to put the name of every pastor in Southern Methodism on the subscription list of the Era. We hope the Tennessee Conference preachers will heartily coöperate in this movement.

THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

This paper maintains the high standard set for it under former administrations, and well deserves a place in every Methodist home. It now has a circulation of about 16,000 copies, an increase of 2,000 during the past two years, but this is still far short of the number who ought to take and read the paper. It is a religious paper, a Methodist paper, and its presence in the home is a religious and intellectual uplift to that home. As pastors and laymen let us give Drs. Winton and Godbey our hearty coöperation in their effort to extend the circulation of this paper during the coming year.

THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY ADVOCATE AND OUR HOMES.

Mrs. Butler and Miss Helm, who represent these magazines, have put forth every effort to make them the very best of literature. There has been an increase in the circulation of these papers the past year. They well deserve a much larger number of readers, and we hope they will secure them.

THE METHODIST REVIEW.

By the work and efforts of our Doctor Tigert the circulation of the Review has gained a gratifying increase during the year. We are glad to know that it is now on a self-sustaining basis. The Review is a credit to the Church. No preacher especially can afford to be without it.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LITERATURE.

Our Sunday school literature is as good as the best, and is the best for us. All our schools should use our own literature. The Magazine should be in the hands of every teacher, and the various grades of quarterlies and leaflets are fully adapted to meet the needs of all our pupils. In this connection we specially commend the Children's Visitor. Let superintendents see that their schools are supplied with this high-grade young people's paper.

GO FORWARD.

This periodical is a twenty-four page monthly, and is published as the organ of the General Board of Missions, and edited by Drs. W. R. Lambuth and Seth Ward. The articles are brief and bright paragraphs which are like war bulletins from the firing line. Every sentence is interesting and helpful to one who yearns for the coming of Christ's kingdom. The magazine is well illustrated. It contains such a fund of missionary information that no pastor can afford to be without it. We heartily commend Go Forward to all our people.

SPIRITUAL RECIPROCITY, A WORD ON MINISTERIAL SUPPORT.

We find this a good pamphlet written by Rev. W. H. Johnston, which we can heartily recommend to all the preachers for circulation among their members.

ED T. SWEENEY, Secretary.

XIV. MEMOIRS.

REV. JOHN R. WILLIAMS, son of Rev. John S. and Mary P. Williams, was born February 11, 1850, in Davidson County, Tenn. He was converted and joined the Church in September, 1865. He was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Conference in 1876, at Columbia, Tenn. He served the following charges: Summit Mission, two years; Pleasant Grove, two years; Bellbuckle, one year; Cross Plains, three years; Westmoreland, two years; Fairfield, two years; Cross Plains, three years; Red River, four years; Fountain Head, four years; Rich Valley, one year; Big Rock Circuit, two years; Bethlehem and Hickory Point, one year; and Barren Plains Circuit, where he died April 7, 1904, aged fifty-four years, one month, and twenty-six days. He preached his last sermon the fourth Sunday in February. When death came this faithful man of God was still in the ranks. He fell as falls the strong timber, only when the woodman's ax has cleft it asunder. November 23, 1883, he was married to Miss Lizzie Jones, who writes me that nothing too good can be said of him, that there was never a kinder husband, a better man in his family; always the same quiet, sweet-spirited, gentle husband and father. I first knew John R. Williams some thirty years ago. We were boys together. There sprung up in our young manhood an intimacy that was never severed nor even marred during his life. As a young preacher Brother Williams was very promising; strong physically, with a quick mental grasp, a ready flow of language, and flowery in expression. Had he been a hard student, he would have been no ordinary preacher; as it is, he was a strong preacher. He was modest, naturally timid, never pushing himself to the front, never grasping for high positions; he was content to labor in circuit work, and there use his talent and influence for the salvation of men and the advancement of the Master's kingdom. A big man in a small place, rather than a small man in a big place, seemed more to his liking. He was a popular pastor, and left many friends when he changed his field of labor. Having served Cross Plains—my present charge—three years, and by a second appointment three years more, I find his footprints abide still in a host of friends. He was spiritual in its full meaning. He delighted in revival work, was earnest in presenting the gospel. Anxious for the salvation of men, often the message came as from one whose lips had been touched with a live coal from off the altar of God. He went into the homes of the poor and lowly, and the sunshine he carried in his own soul he let out to brighten these homes. He was a brave man in that he did not fear men nor compromise with sin; he would swear to his own hurt and change not; yet, withal, as gentle as a woman, tender in his affections, forgiving in his nature, and amiable in disposition, I never heard him say an unkind word of any one, nor relate a grievance against one who had wronged him. He went to every charge assigned him, and faithfully, patiently, uncomplainingly endeavored to give full proof of his ministry. The Tennessee Conference may have had brainier men, deeper thinkers, more brilliant speakers, but has there been a better, purer man among us? If goodness is greatness—and it is—John Williams was a great man. Eternity alone will reveal his true worth. One who was with him much during his illness says he was intensely interested in his work, and planning for greater usefulness almost to the last. He did not realize his work was done until a few days before his transition, when he called his wife and children about him and counseled each one to be good and true, and meet him on the golden shores of the eternal beyond. The Clarksville District Conference pays this beautiful tribute to the memory of Brother Williams: "We have met and we have missed him. Our brother, John R. Williams, after laboring as an itinerant preacher for twenty-eight years, has finished his labor and gone to his eternal reward. This quiet and modest man has made a record which the world can never fully know or duly appreciate." A widow and three children are left to mourn their loss, and to the tender care of this Conference. In this brief sketch I have attempted to portray my friend as I knew him, not as others may have known him. In the bright world that lies just beyond I expect to strike hands with John R. Williams, and share his friendship while eternity endures.

JEROME WINFORD.

REV. WILLIAM RIVES PEEBLES, son of Thomas Henry and Mary Peebles, was born July 22, 1852, in Williamson County, Tenn. He was converted and joined the Church October 2, 1870. He was happily married June 30, 1874, to Miss Alice, daughter of the late Rev. William H. Wilkes, of the Tennessee Conference. Nine children were born to them. The mother and seven children, four sons and three daughters, are living. He was admitted on trial into the Tennessee Conference in October, 1874, at Gallatin, Tenn. He served the following charges: Tullahoma and Decherd, Hobson Chapel, White's Creek, Brentwood, College Grove, Forest Grove, Pleasant Valley, Shelbyville, Clarksville, Clarksville District, Gallatin, Pulaski, Columbia District, Nashville District, and he was presiding elder of the Fayetteville District at the time of his death, which occurred at his home near Culleoka, Tenn., August 5, 1904. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. D. C. Kelley and others in the Methodist Church at Franklin, Tenn., on August 6, 1904, and from thence his body was laid to rest in the family reservation in one of Franklin's beautiful cemeteries. The above is a brief outline of his life and work. He was an itinerant Methodist preacher, a man of one work, and sincerely devoted to his work. The ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ was the business of his life, and all else was made subservient to this. He cherished the most grateful appreciation of his calling and position in the ministry. For thirty years he went in and out before his brethren, and no man among them was better known or more tenderly loved. The unequivocal confidence of his brethren was his well-deserved heritage. The blessing of God was upon him. He was richly endowed by nature. By acquirement he was competent and well qualified for a great work. His life was an approved link in the chain of a noble lineage. His ancestors were people of intellectual force, literary culture, and patriotic endeavor. His father was an educated man, and an educator of evident ability in his day. With his call to the ministry he realized more than ever before the importance of thorough intellectual training. He graduated from Emory and Henry College with distinguished honors, and afterwards was always affectionately devoted to his Alma Mater. He was fond of books, and usually mastered thoroughly what was undertaken. But his greater study was in the practical field of human life. He loved humanity, and studied human character and human needs with abiding and unwearied interest. He was eminently practical, and on this account he acquired superior knowledge of the people and the affairs of life. In the power of application he was apt and wise, and his accurate knowledge of men and conditions was a treasury of power. He was regarded as everybody's friend because he showed himself friendly to all. No one ever had a better friend than he was. In the strong, congenial friendships of a lifetime he was a friend that sticketh closer than a brother. Gentle manhood is the primary qualification for favor, usefulness, and success in any vocation. Many who are otherwise competent fail in the pursuits of life for the want of this one essential quality. It is especially needful in the Christian life. "The servant of the Lord must be gentle unto all men." By birth and breeding he was a gentleman of the noblest type. In character he was strong, self-respecting, and always considerate of others. His superior magnanimity was always apparent in his gentle attitude toward a vanquished antagonist, and especially toward his inferiors under all conditions. He was strikingly original, and always maintained his identity, and said and did things in his own way. The impress of his own personality was upon all his productions. Truth, candor, honesty, and absolute sincerity were among his cardinal virtues. Personal magnetism was one of his charms. A hearty appreciation of the humorous, a keen sense of the ridiculous, wise discrimination in the use of a rich collection of entertaining anecdotes, and a perfectly congenial and communicative nature made him at once a conspicuous figure in the social group. In repartee he was apt, resourceful, and efficient, but not exuberant. All these powers were among his abounding resources, and often contributed to his efficiency in polemics, where he was otherwise very strong. Chiefest among his excellencies was a sanctified Christian heart. He was a child of God. Under the exterior of life, in the sanctum of the soul, where men are known to God, he enjoyed the peace that flows as a river. The real strength of his life was in his simple, genuine, unadorned godliness. He knew the power of God's love to cast out all fear. His outward religious life was simple and unpretentious, and he was not demonstrative as some, but he was always unwavering as a witness and unceasing as a worker. In Christian experience he was satisfactory, but not sanctimonious; he was certain, but not presumptuous. Jesus said: "The works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me." The interpretation of this man's life through thirty years of tireless devotion to the service of God brings us to the logical conclusion that he was great in grace as well as in nature. In the pastorate as a field hand he was in sympathy with the poor and suffering, and showed a sincere interest in the lowly in life. Into the cabins of the poor he carried the light of gospel truth, and from their humble altars of prayer led them to the hills from whence cometh their help. On one occasion he traveled many miles to preach the funeral sermon of an old colored man, once a family servant. To him it was a duty and a privilege discharged with as much gratitude and devotion as he would have experienced in preaching the funeral of a more pretentious person. On another occasion he went many miles back to the home of his childhood only to see that an old colored woman, once a family servant, was properly housed and provided with good food and comfortable clothing. These incidents happened not many years ago, and are examples of his everyday life as a man of God. "He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much." He was a strong preacher, a wise counselor, and a courageous leader, who was inspired by the purest patriotism, and whose every action was characterized by an unselfish devotion to what he believed to be right. In many respects he was a model presiding elder. Strong in the pulpit, impartial in the chair, practical and faithful everywhere, congenial to everybody, he was easily a successful leader. The various interests of the Church were duly considered. The humblest layman had a patient hearing, and the humblest pastor had as much consideration as the greatest. In the bishop's cabinet he evinced a very tender solicitude for the welfare of preachers and their families. He was courteous and genteel in his bearing, and not quick to impugn the motives of his colleagues. He did not harbor petty suspicions as if he were expecting some brother to take undue advantage of him. Here as elsewhere he looked only for the best in his fellow-men. He loved his own preëminently, and was truly patriotic in his devotion to the Tennessee Conference. In the routine work of the Conference session he was faithful and patient, in the committee work he was vigilant and careful, and on the floor in the discussion of measures he was strong and very effective. In the General Conference, where he served with notable ability in 1894 and 1902, he had a large influence, made many friends, and discharged all the duties of a delegate with credit to himself and with honor to his Conference. He was a member of the Joint Commission of the Midland Methodist, and to him we are indebted very largely for this excellent Conference organ. But little need be written of his home life. The home is sacred; words are inadequate, and the subject is above description. Behind the curtains which concealed from public view his private home life there was a beautiful scene of domestic blessedness. Among the prominent virtues of his home were simplicity, congeniality, and godliness. His wife and children will rise up and call him blessed as husband, father, and head of a most exemplary household. In his home there was always an open door of generous, Christian hospitality. Perhaps his power and efficiency as a minister of the gospel were somewhat neutralized by the slow but sure development of an unyielding disease. He possessed in an eminent degree the elements of a great leader. He was already great in the exercise of these noble faculties. With robust health and a longer life he might have been greater still. Just at the time his spiritual and intellectual powers were strongest and most aggressive, and the opportunity for a more rapid development of his influence and usefulness had come, his health began to fail, and for nearly ten years he was involved in one of the most heroic struggles for life and health that we have ever witnessed. An ordinary man would have yielded much sooner. His efforts were commendable, his courage indomitable, and his will unconquerable. His endurance was admirable. Through the years of his affliction he did not miss a session of the Annual Conference. He missed comparatively few ordinary appointments. He pressed the battle of the Lord to the gates of death, and died, as he had desired, with the armor of the cross upon him. He was a good soldier of Jesus Christ. He fought a good fight, he finished his course, he kept the faith, and he has obtained the incorruptible crown of eternal life. In that city where the inhabitant shall not say, "I am sick," we shall see him again.

HERSCHEL B. REAMS.

The following eminently fitting tribute appeared in an editorial in the Daily Columbia Herald, published near his home: "Buck Peebles was one of nature's noblemen, one of the completest men we have ever known. In the Tennessee Methodist Conference there are as brainy men, as ready debaters as may be found in any organized body on earth, not excepting the Senate of the United States or the Parliament of England, and Buck Peebles held his own with the best of them. In the discussion of great questions he was perhaps the most resourceful man in the Conference. In logical argument he was not a whit behind, while in humor and anecdote he was without an equal. He was a big-brained, big-hearted, big-souled man, and he knew and loved his fellow-men. He loved them as a father loves his own, condoning their faults, sympathizing with their sorrows, pitying their weaknesses, reaching out to lift up, to help, and to save them. There was not a weak spot or a little thing about him. No rational man could want a jollier companion; no more consecrated man walked the face of the earth. Never a slip of the tongue or any false step dishonored his God or cast reflection upon his high calling; never by one disloyal word or halting doubt did he ever betray or forsake a friend; not a single drop of coward blood coursed in his veins. He was great in his parts; complete in his make-up; admirable, lovable—as a preacher, as a pastor, as a Christian, as a man." His will contained the following clause: "I commend to the love and care of Almighty God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost my wife and children, whom I love with undying affection; and I also commend them to my brethren, both clerical and lay, of the Tennessee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for sympathy and encouragement.

D. C. KELLEY."

REV. T. J. DUNCAN was born in Montgomery County, Tenn., May 27, 1839; was converted and joined the Church in August, 1862; was licensed to preach in 1864; entered the traveling connection in the fall of 1866; and died January 27, 1904. His several appointments were as follows: In the Tennessee Conference, Dover, 1867-68; Lineport, 1868-69; Montgomery, 1869-70; Cedar Hill, 1870-74; New Providence and Bethel, 1874-77; Oliver and Pleasant Valley, 1877-78; Pulaski,

1878-79; Columbia, 1879-83; Columbia District, 1883-87; Shelbyville District, 1887-90; North High Street, Nashville, 1890-91; Columbia Station, 1891-92; and Bell-buckle, 1892-93. In the Los Angeles Conference, presiding elder of the Los Angeles District three years. In the Northwest Texas Conference, Taylor, two years; Mexia, two years; and in Ennis he had entered his fourth year when called from labor to reward. He represented the Tennessee Conference in the General Conferences at Richmond, Va., in 1886 and in St. Louis in 1890. These simple figures and facts tell the story of an earnest, consecrated life, and give to us its scope and activities. But facts and figures cannot impart to us the delicate character and the exquisite personality of Thomas Jefferson Duncan, the man, the friend, and the brother. To understand him thus was to come into touch with his presence and to feel the generous impulses of his great heart and his noble spirit. In person he was slightly above medium size, inclined to be fleshy, with a splendid head, a twinkling eye, and an amiable face, wonderfully expressive of his thoughts and feelings. As a man he had the courage of a lion and the gentleness of a woman; as a Christian he had a genuine experience, rooted in convictions as deep as his nature and as broad as his manhood, and his integrity had within it the solidarity of granite; as a preacher he was tender, original, importunate, interspersed now and then with a genuine flash of humor, deeply spiritual; and as a friend and brother he was warm, confiding, unselfish, and abiding. He hated sin with an intense hatred, but he loved all mankind. He never took halfway positions on any subject, but went his whole length after having made up his mind that a given course of conduct was right and proper. You always knew where to find him when the truth, as he understood it, was up for discussion. And he knew how to differ from his brethren without carrying that difference into personal grievance and misunderstanding. He entertained no malice and never allowed the sun to go down upon his anger. Good-natured, genial, witty, well-informed, affectionate, he was ready to give and take and remain your brother still. In his home, in the private circle, and out in the great world, he exerted an influence as sweet as the music of song and as fragrant as the perfume of flowers. There was nothing gloomy in his religion or depressing in his spirit; on the contrary, his face was always toward the morning, and there was an expression of jubilant triumph in his voice and countenance. His whole nature bubbled over with kindness, and his manner and words scattered sunshine all around him. He was always in love with God and mankind. He attracted to him the old and the young, and little children flocked about him in the exuberance of childish glee. He was an eminently wise man. There was no foolishness in his character, and in all his relations his one object was to glorify his Master and bring people to a knowledge of the truth. He did his work in the pastorate and in the pulpit eminently well. He knew when to speak and what to say. His sermons were the essence of the gospel. They convicted sinners, strengthened believers, and comforted saints. In the inner circles of grief and sorrow he was wonderfully gifted with the power to soothe the wounded spirit and to solace the broken-hearted. The tenderness of his nature went out to the distressed and the bereaved. But as a husband and a father his devotion and love knew no bounds. In that inner sacred circle where the outside world did not gaze he was well-nigh worshiped. The wealth of his heart exhausted its munificent resources upon those who stood related to him as wife and children. How they loved him and how he loved them! I have never seen more display of genuine affection than this man manifested in his domestic circle. To come within its sphere and enjoy its warmth, as I have done, is a benediction. Therefore, such a life as the one lived by Brother Duncan is worthy of our emulation. He lived, he wrought, and he died well. Behind him there is no darkness, and around his grave is the light of an inextinguishable hope. We shall meet him again under brighter skies, beside purer streams and amid gardens whose foliage and flowers will know no frost blight for evermore. Good-by, brother, friend, companion, noble old warrior, till we strike hands again beyond the murky waters of the turbid river.

much sooner. His efforts were commendable, his courage indomitable, and his will unconquerable. His endurance was admirable. Through the years of his affliction he did not miss a session of the Annual Conference. He missed comparatively few ordinary appointments. He pressed the battle of the Lord to the gates of death, and died, as he had desired, with the armor of the cross upon him. He was a good soldier of Jesus Christ. He fought a good fight, he finished his course, he kept the faith, and he has obtained the incorruptible crown of eternal life. In that city where the inhabitant shall not say, "I am sick," we shall see him again.

HERSCHEL B. REAMS.

The following eminently fitting tribute appeared in an editorial in the Daily Columbia Herald, published near his home: "Buck Peebles was one of nature's noblemen, one of the completest men we have ever known. In the Tennessee Methodist Conference there are as brainy men, as ready debaters as may be found in any organized body on earth, not excepting the Senate of the United States or the Parliament of England, and Buck Peebles held his own with the best of them. In the discussion of great questions he was perhaps the most resourceful man in the Conference. In logical argument he was not a whit behind, while in humor and anecdote he was without an equal. He was a big-brained, big-hearted, big-souled man, and he knew and loved his fellow-men. He loved them as a father loves his own, condoning their faults, sympathizing with their sorrows, pitying their weaknesses, reaching out to lift up, to help, and to save them. There was not a weak spot or a little thing about him. No rational man could want a jollier companion; no more consecrated man walked the face of the earth. Never a slip of the tongue or any false step dishonored his God or cast reflection upon his high calling; never by one disloyal word or halting doubt did he ever betray or forsake a friend; not a single drop of coward blood coursed in his veins. He was great in his parts; complete in his make-up; admirable, lovable—as a preacher, as a pastor, as a Christian, as a man." His will contained the following clause: "I commend to the love and care of Almighty God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost my wife and children, whom I love with undying affection; and I also commend them to my brethren, both clerical and lay, of the Tennessee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for sympathy and encouragement.

REV. T. J. DUNCAN was born in Montgomery County, Tenn., May 27, 1839; was converted and joined the Church in August, 1862; was licensed to preach in 1864; entered the traveling connection in the fall of 1866; and died January 27, 1904. His several appointments were as follows: In the Tennessee Conference, Dover, 1867-68; Lineport, 1868-69; Montgomery, 1869-70; Cedar Hill, 1870-74; New Providence and Bethel, 1874-77; Oliver and Pleasant Valley, 1877-78; Pulaski,

1878-79; Columbia, 1879-83; Columbia District, 1883-87; Shelbyville District, 1887-90; North High Street, Nashville, 1890-91; Columbia Station, 1891-92; and Bell-buckle, 1892-93. In the Los Angeles Conference, presiding elder of the Los Angeles District three years. In the Northwest Texas Conference, Taylor, two years; Mexia, two years; and in Ennis he had entered his fourth year when called from labor to reward. He represented the Tennessee Conference in the General Conferences at Richmond, Va., in 1886 and in St. Louis in 1890. These simple figures and facts tell the story of an earnest, consecrated life, and give to us its scope and activities. But facts and figures cannot impart to us the delicate character and the exquisite personality of Thomas Jefferson Duncan, the man, the friend, and the brother. To understand him thus was to come into touch with his presence and to feel the generous impulses of his great heart and his noble spirit. In person he was slightly above medium size, inclined to be fleshy, with a splendid head, a twinkling eye, and an amiable face, wonderfully expressive of his thoughts and feelings. As a man he had the courage of a lion and the gentleness of a woman; as a Christian he had a genuine experience, rooted in convictions as deep as his nature and as broad as his manhood, and his integrity had within it the solidarity of granite; as a preacher he was tender, original, importunate, interspersed now and then with a genuine flash of humor, deeply spiritual; and as a friend and brother he was warm, confiding, unselfish, and abiding. He hated sin with an intense hatred, but he loved all mankind. He never took halfway positions on any subject, but went his whole length after having made up his mind that a given course of conduct was right and proper. You always knew where to find him when the truth, as he understood it, was up for discussion. And he knew how to differ from his brethren without carrying that difference into personal grievance and misunderstanding. He entertained no malice and never allowed the sun to go down upon his anger. Good-natured, genial, witty, well-informed, affectionate, he was ready to give and take and remain your brother still. In his home, in the private circle, and out in the great world, he exerted an influence as sweet as the music of song and as fragrant as the perfume of flowers. There was nothing gloomy in his religion or depressing in his spirit; on the contrary, his face was always toward the morning, and there was an expression of jubilant triumph in his voice and countenance.
